CLEVELAND, Ohio (April 10, 2023) Nonprofit, Reach Out and Read (ROR), is proud to announce the Greater Cleveland affiliate turns into springboards to healthy family relationships. During well-visits, physicians speak with parents about the benefits of reading aloud and sharing meaningful moments with their young children beginning at birth. Physicians show caregivers how to incorporate books to best engage their children and how to interact with the text and images to help the children follow along. Opportunities for physicians to share advice about how to talk about stories with infants, toddlers, and preschoolers helping to promote early relational health and creating memorable moments between a child and caregiver. The program allows for families to gain a de
